PROPOSED SEWERAGE SYSTEM

Associated with the waterworks proposition in discussion has been the proposal to install a system of sewerage for the town. Accordingly Engineer Chipman included in his report an outline of a sewerage system. It was considered desirable to install both systems at the same time as by this means the expense of a second excavation would be avoided.

The system outlined by Mr. Chipman is quite elaborate and includes 31.2 miles of pipes strung along the principal streets. The suggested junction for the mains is at the corner of Jasper and Namayo avenues and the outlet near Humberstone's coal mine. The mains would traverse practically the same streets as the waterworks mains. The cost of installation is placed at $60,000.

In his report Mr. Chipman suggests that a general sewerage tax be levied on the assessable property in town and a special frontage tax on the property fronting on streets traversed by sewer pipes.

The proposition to install the system is included in the by-law proposing the installation of waterworks.

Of the $60,000 required to provide the system it is proposed to raise $30,000 by special frontage tax on the land served by the sewers, and to float the remaining $30,000 on the credit of the municipality, the same to be repayable, together with the waterworks loan by means of a special general rate levied annually on all the assessable property in town.

The life of the debentures for the proposed loan, as also the loan for installing the waterworks system, is fixed at forty years and provision is made in the by-law that the aggregate amount of $110,000 thus borrowed on the municipal credit may be repaid either in such manner that each annual instalment of principal and interest shall be equal or that the principal shall be payable at the termination of forty years, an annual sinking fund being raised sufficient to meet the same at maturity, the interest being payable yearly.

If endorsed by the electors on the 29th inst., the by-law authorizing the loans for installing the two systems will come into effect on June 28th next. A two-thirds majority is necessary to carry the by-law.

THE DOOM OF THE LIQUOR ACT

The wee small chance of escape which was left to the Manitoba Liquor Act by the Roblin Referendum has been efficiently and permanently dispelled by the conflicting counsels of the Manitoba Prohibitionists.

The Dominion Alliance representatives at a recent meeting decided to express their supreme contempt for the shifting policy of Premier Roblin in regard to the Liquor Act by ignoring the referendum. A large percentage of the Alliance members, however, considering that prohibition were cheap at any price formed a Prohibition League for the purpose of influencing as many as possible of the Manitoba prohibitionists to record themselves in favor of the enforcement of the Act.

The silence of contempt may be a very convenient and imposing attitude but as a means of winning prohibition from a hostile government is about as poor a means as could be devised. The League on the other hand have made it impossible for the prohibitionists of Manitoba to record an unanimous opinion even by an attitude of silence.

The unanimous opinion of the Manitoba Prohibitionists might, even by the doubtful expedient of silence, have shamed the Roblin administration into an enforcement of the law. The unanimous demand of the Prohibition Party, expressed through the ballot boxes would doubtless have frightened that administration into a performance of the programme on which it was elected.

But there cannot and will not be an expression of the opinion of the Prohibition Party by either means.

It not infrequently transpires that in the multitude of counsellors is weakness and if the nearly realized dream of the Manitoba Prohibitionists be rudely shattered by the referendum vote its mourners will have the satisfaction of knowing that the Liquor Act was the victim of the conjoint efforts of the policy of Roblin and of the policy-lacking action of its friends.

Lake Navigation Early.

A Chicago despatch says: The earliest opening of navigation on the great lakes since the straits of Macinaw became a factor in the commerce of the country, seems to be at hand. A resumption of business by April 1 on all the upper lakes, two weeks earlier than usual, is now predicated by vessel owners. From all points, reports indicate less ice than ever before at the corresponding period of the year. There are only 15 inches of ice in the straits and even less than that in Mud lake. At Sault Ste Marie the channel is open and the ferries are being put in commission.

Germinating Quality of Alberta Oats

To decide the measure of justice in the contention of several Manitoba grainmen last spring that Alberta oats were lacking in germinating power, a series of tests have been made by Mr. Donald Ross, our well known horticulturist, the results of which are made known in the following communication from the secretary of the board of trade:

Edmonton, 12th March, 1902.
Editor "Bulletin."

Sir: As our board was anxious to find out about the germinating powers of oats, one of the members who had fifty bushels of them sent me a sample of last year's growth headed Mr. Donald Ross, our well known horticulturist, who samples indiscriminately taken from seven different bins, and the following explain:

"Dear Sir—I have tested the several samples of oats submitted to me, and report their germinating powers as follows: Sample No. 1, 90 per cent.; No. 2, 82 per cent.; No. 3, 96 per cent.; No. 4, 82 per cent.; No. 5, 90 per cent.; No. 6, 64 per cent.; No. 7, 30 per cent. Yours truly, Donald Ross."

If the Winnipeg Free Press, Telegram, Tribune, Commercial and North-West Farmer will kindly copy this, it will be much appreciated on the Edmonton district, as the question of getting good seed oats is important and the Edmonton district has them.

Yours truly,

F. FRASER TIMS,
Secretary-Treasurer,
The Edmonton Board of Trade.

Methuen's Disaster.

A London despatch of March 10th, says: The death of Lord Kitchener's despatch announcing the capture of General Methuen is as follows:

"Preteria, March 8—I greatly regret to have to send you bad news of Methuen. He was moving with 900 mounted men, under Major Paris, and three hundred infantry, four guns and a pom-pom, from Wynburg to Lichtenburg, and was to meet Grenfell with 1,300 mounted men at Roviraines Fontein to-day. Yesterday morning early he was attacked by Delaney's force between Twer bosch and Palmietkraal. The Boers charged on three sides.

"Five hundred and fifty men have come in at Mariborgs and Kraanap. They were pursued by the Poers four miles from the scene of action. They report that Methuen and Paris, with the guns, baggage, etc., were captured by the Boers. Methuen when last seen, was a prisoner. I have no details of the casualties, and suggest delaying publication till I can send definite news. I think this sudden revival of activity on the part of Delaney is to draw off the troops pressing De Wet."

In a second despatch, dated Sunday, March 9, Lord Kitchener says: "Paris has come in at Kraanap, with the remainder of the men. He reports that the column was moving in two parties. One, with the ox wagons, left Tweebosch at 3 a.m. The other with the mail wagons, started an hour later. Just before dawn the Boers attacked. Before reinforcements could reach them the rear guard broke. In the meantime a large number of Boers galloped up on both flanks. These at first were checked by the flank parties, but the panic and stampede of the mules had begun and all the mule wagons, with a terrible mixture of mounted men rushed past the ox wagons. All efforts to check them were unwilling. Major Paris collected forty men and occupied a position a mile in front of the ox wagons which were then baited. After a gallant but useless defence, the enemy rushed into the ox wagons and Methuen was wounded in the thigh. Paris, being surrounded, surrendered at 10 a.m. Methuen is still in the Boer camp."

Then follows the number of casualties:

The killed include Lieutenants G. R. Venning and T. R. W. Nesham, of the Royal Artillery, who were both killed while serving their guns with cases of shot.

Three British officers and 38 men were killed. Five British officers and 72 men were wounded. One British officer and 200 men are missing.

The British force numbered 1,200 men. The Boers captured all the British baggage.

General Methuen was the British commander who led the army to the relief of the besieged town of Kimberley, in November, 1899. In this expedition he successively engaged the Boers at Belmont, Graspan, Modder river and Magersfontein. The British were successful in the first three battles, but suffered a severe defeat at Magersfontein. The Boer commander at Graspan was General Methuen. It was after the Magersfontein defeat that General Roberts was sent to South Africa, where he took personal command of the British advance on Kimberley, and relieved by General French, and relieved that place Feb. 16, 1900. Paul Sanford Methuen, third Baron Methuen, is descended from John Methuen, lord chancellor of Ireland. He was born September 1818, and succeeded his father on the latter's death in 1861. He was educated at Eton and became a tenant in the Scots' Guards 1864. He served with distinction in Egypt and South Africa, and has been frequently decorated and mentioned in despatches for bravery.

Mr. Max. D. Major, the well known pianoforte tuner, will visit Edmonton shortly. Wait for him. A reasonable rate can be obtained by the year. Ask for particulars.

EXHIBIT ON ASSOCIATION MEET.

The annual general meeting of the Edmonton Industrial Exhibition Association was held in Robertson Hall on Wednesday afternoon. President Gallagher presided and there was a good attendance of shareholders.

The minutes of the last general meeting were read and adopted.

G. W. Green, of Red Deer, wrote asking if the date of the exhibition had been fixed for the coming summer, Red Deer being anxious to arrange such dates for their fair as would suit the circuit of horses touring the west.

The matter was left in the hands of the directors.

J. Kincaid wrote informing the association that the council remitted the taxes for 1901 on the property held by them.

Mr. Beck enclosed a letter from the assistant secretary of the Territories explaining that under the new ordinance passed last year the association must register with the government before July 1st. The secretary was instructed to forward to the government the necessary information and secure registration.

D. Ross pointed out the necessity of the association being placed at an early date in such condition that a loan could be contracted on the association's property. Mr. Beck pointed out that this could be done only after registration, by a three-quarters vote of the shareholders present at a regularly called meeting; the resolution requiring also majority confirmation at a subsequent general meeting. The date of a special general meeting for this purpose was fixed as April 5th, at 2:30 p.m.

The election of officers resulted in the following directors being chosen, C. Gallagher, J. H. Morris, J. Kennedy, D. Ross, W. S. Robertson, T. Bellamy, J. McPherson, T. Daly and J. H. Garvey. The president and vice-president are chosen by the directors from among themselves at their first meeting subsequent to the general meeting.

The secretary presented the following report of assets and liabilities; Value of lands, buildings and improvements, $14,844.72 Assets: Miscellaneous, 609.99 Unpaid shares, 7,535.00 Grant, 1,000.00 Cash in bank, 303.59 Liabilities: Mortgage on real estate, $ 4,060.00 Outstanding promissory notes, 4,121.55 Miscellaneous, 393.00 Interest on real estate, 6 months, 142.10 Capital subscribed, 10,875.00

Some Foreign Grown Seeds.

The following article is from the Mr. G. H. Clark, B. S. A., chief of the division department of agriculture. "If the farmers of Canada were acquainted with the sources of supply of their root crop seeds, and the avenues through which they pass before reaching them, they would be a great deal more particular when making their purchases."

Practically all the seed for our root crops is grown in foreign countries.
However important it may be that the seed for such crops be grown in the country where it is wanted for sowing, the cheap labor in those European countries, which have become the seed gardens of the world, has made the seed growing industry unprofitable to Canadian farmers or seed specialists.

Our supply of foreign grown seeds is bought and imported principally by our larger seed firms. They must make their purchases either by paying a commensurate price to reliable European seed growers, men who grow seed from selected pedigree stock or, if they may buy seed at a much lower price—seed that is grown by men whose chief aim has been to produce a large quantity, independent of the quality of the crop it will produce.
In the former case, the seed is grown from selected plants—from roots which have an ideal size and form and are known to be true to name.

During the last ten or fifteen years the seed trade has, to a great extent, been passing from the hands of seedsmen who devote all their time to a study of seeds and the seed trade, into the hands of local dealers. Unfortunately, fair competition in the seed trade, is practically impossible, since the appearance of most commercial seeds is but a slight indication of their real value. The competition has been and is too largely confined to prices alone. Farmers continue to patronize the local dealer who is able to quote a low price for his goods.
The local dealer demands a low price of the wholesale firms, and in turn there has been a growing strife among wholesale seed firms in the buying of cheap goods, with which to supply local dealers. It is well to mention, however, that through the progressive spirit of some reliable seed houses a limited trade of the best stocks of root crop seeds has been fostered, and there is little difficulty experienced among intelligent farmers in getting the best quality of seeds provided that they go the right way about it, and are willing to pay a commensurate price. But much of the root crop seeds sold in Canada are retailed to the farmer at a price quite as low as our Canadian seed houses have paid reliable European seed growers for the best seed from selected pedigree stock.

Appeals have been made, both by seedsmen and farmers, to place such restrictions on the seed trade, as will serve to withdraw the responsibility connected therewith, from the hands of incompetent local dealers. While root crop seeds, this aim may be reached by allowing only reliable seed houses or importers the right to place such goods on the market; by allowing them to place goods in sealed packets, each package to be properly labeled, and to bear the name and consequently the reputation of the seed house; in the hands of local dealers to be sold on commission only; Official interference in the seed trade may have objectionable features. Perhaps the most striking example of where legislation has been applied to improve the conditions under which commercial seeds are sold, is in the State of Maine, where all seeds sold must be accompanied with a state certificate showing the percentage of pure and vital seeds. They have extended to their seed trade a modification of the act which is used in Canada to regulate the quality of commercial fertilizers, and the results have clearly demonstrated that, whatever evils may accompany an enforced guarantee system in connection with the seed trade, it is an effective way to improve the quality of commercial seeds especially of clover and grasses, of which a great deal is sold in some districts in Canada, that contains large quantities of noxious weeds and is a decided injury, not only to the farmer who buys it, but to the locality where it is grown.

Culture of Fall Wheat in Alberta.
Communication to the Farmer's Advocate; Fall wheat has been grown in the Pincher Creek district for the past 8 or 9 years by a few ranchers on a limited scale, but very little interest being taken in its production until the last two years. About two years ago settlers turned their attention to this district and a steady stream of them have been coming ever since, all having the same object in view—the growing of fall wheat in connection with stock-raising. Consequently, there has been a large increase in acreage, particularly in the last sown crop, which went into winter in most cases in fine condition.

Only two varieties have been grown so far, one of which the name has been lost but if not White Clawson it resembles that variety very closely; the other being Dawson's Golden Chaff, the latter being grown chiefly by the Mormons. Last season the C. P. Railway Co. distributed a carload of Kansas Red fall wheat in this district, this variety being of high class milling quality. This important cereal has been grown with more or less success under so many different systems of cultivation and at such a wide range of dates of seeding, ranging from July 15th to September 20th, that it seems that if it gets a start at all you are sure of a crop.
While this may be the case, the heaviest crops have been from the July sowing on a well-prepared seed-bed, and if the growth becomes so large that there is danger of too much top cattle are allowed to graze it off.

A large proportion of the present growing crop was sown on new breaking, the land being plowed in June, and a disc harrow being used not only to prepare the seed-bed, but also to cover the seed, which in most cases was sown by hand, as there are very few seed drills in the district yet, and, I might add, this plan of cultivation has been a success. Others sown on soil stubble, just using a disk, the same as on the breaking, and sowing the seed by hand on the stubble, not plowing the land at all; while others plowed the land first, using a drill if they had one, but in most cases sowing by hand; while others claim they have waited until they dug their potatoes and sowed that land in fall wheat, the wheat barley reaching the surface before cold weather set in, and have had good crops ranging from 40 to 50 bushels per acre.

While all these different modes of cultivation and dates of seeding have met with fair success, the largest yields have been on the well-prepared summer-fallow, the wheat being sown with a seed drill from 2 1/2 to 3 inches deep, and sown about July 20th or not later than Aug. 1st. Then if the wheat gets too much top, turn light cattle on, taking them off before they feel it off too close. The successful growing of this crop is a great boon in this district in many ways—spring wheat not having succeeded very well so far, ripening being delayed by the cool atmosphere until frost damages the crop, whereas fall wheat ripens early in August, when there is no danger of frost; then, again, it is sown at a time when other farm work is not so pressing, and harvested before spring-crop grain is ready to cut. But one of the greatest benefits of growing this crop will be the destruction of weeds, which are fast overrunning the spring sown lands, many of which were this last season a mat of wild oats, and were cut for hay, being of no use for a grain crop. A summer-fallow is out of the question in this district, as the high winds drift the fallows so badly that it ruins the land, but when fall wheat is sown in July it does away with all drifting of the soil, as it forms a solid mat long before the windy season begins, and any foul seed that did not germinate during the early summer will come up in the wheat and the first hard frost will destroy them, and the result is a fine crop, free of weeds. While the fall wheat of Alberta may not demand as high a price as the Manitoba hard spring wheat, it will be more than made up by the bountiful yield, as it will give at least one-third more bushels per acre, as it has yielded in this district 72 bushels per acre, and then again it must be borne in mind that the Alberta fall wheat is a much harder wheat than the Ontario spring wheat, just the same as Manitoba spring wheat is a much harder wheat than the Ontario spring wheat; hence it will be a high grade milling wheat.

Following Uncle Sam

A London despatch intimates that the new army regulations proposed by Mr. Broderick, providing for increased pay and other reforms which have created so much comment appear to have been directly copied from the United States.

Major Arthur Lee, M. P., for the Fareham division of Hampshire, and formerly British military attaché at Washington, said to a representative of the Associated Press; "At last we have taken out a leaf from your excellent book, though I do not believe we have gone quite so far in that direction as we might, or hope we may. Under Mr. Broderick's proposed changes, a private in the British infantry now receives almost as much as a private in the United States army. At this change, which I frequently advocated while military attaché at Washington, we hope to get a class of recruits similar to those secured in America. Under the old pay we were gradually lowering the physical standard, yet still finding it hard to get men, while our desertion percentage was increasing at a rate which showed there was something radically wrong with the system. The American army was the only other voluntarily enlisted body in the world with which we could make serviceable comparisons. The continental armies, owing to conscription and other causes, are perfectly worthless examples. A year ago Mr. Broderick pooh-poohed the idea of copying the United States. Now he has changed his mind and has done what the majority of the members of the house, regardless of party, believe to be the very best thing that could have happened to the army since Mr. Cardwell, in 1872 effected his sweeping reforms. For the first time 'Tommy,' with everything found and higher pay, will be in a better position than his agricultural brother, and from that class we ought now to get the best instead of the worst. Yet it may hurt the agricultural interests, or what there is left of it, in England, but I do not believe that this damage will be as serious, as the evils which the change will correct. Not only is it interesting to note the influence of the American system in these sweeping changes but they will have a tremendous negative importance. Last year the government clearly indicated its fears that it might have to resort to conscription. The present move banishes all possibility of this, for I understand Mr. Broderick is willing to go even farther in copying the United States' excellent treatment of enlisted men and by liberal finance build up the standard of the army. 'The increase in pay means an additional annual cost of about £2,000,000 but I maintain that it will be direct saving of money, for the better class of men secured will mean fewer men in the hospitals and prisons as well as obviating other forms of wastage, and will quickly make up for the additional initial outlay. Some day, perhaps, we may be able to adopt the sensible plan of the United States of paying the enlisted men of all arms at the same rate. But traditions here die hard."

Boer Delegates Turned Under.

Washington, D. C., March 5.—Messrs. Wolmarans and Wessels, the Boer representatives, were received by Secretary of State Hay at 1 o'clock this afternoon. It was distinctly understood that the Boers were to be received as private citizens and Mr. Hay talked to them freely with this understanding. The principal object of the delegates was to induce the United States government to do something to terminate the present struggle in South Africa, though they were not very specific as to what they wanted. The secretary of state heard them attentively but recommended that the Boers see Mr. Roosevelt and ascertain his views. This they agreed to do, and later in the day, accompanied by Dr. Frederick Mueller, of the Orange Free State, called at the White House. They were received by President Roosevelt in the library, and remained with him about 15 minutes. They called as private citizens and not in their official capacity as Boer representatives. Mr. Roosevelt listened attentively to what they had to say, and then informed them that the United States government cannot and will not interfere in the struggle.

Father Lacombe in Montreal

At Montreal despatch of Monday, says; Father Lacombe, widely known through his connection with Indian missions to the Indians in the Northwest, spoke yesterday at all masses in St. Jean Catholic church, appealing for assistance for work. Father Lacombe told the congregation that he had been a missionary for fifty-two years, and had lived in tents and on the prairies with his folk. He spoke of the excellent work done among these people and how great results had sprung from the beginnings. Now schools and churches were needed and it was to assist their propagation that he had come to Montreal. Descriptions of life on the plains were given and his story of the conversion of "Sweet Grass" was touching. The chief had been present when Father Lacombe received a copy of a Papal encyclical issued by Pius IX, referring to the dogma of the Immaculate Conception and the priest's emotion on this occasion so stirred the chief, that he said for instruction, and became a worthy member of the church. Father Lacombe's appeals were generously answered by the parishioners.

Cattle Embargo to Remain

Correspondence regarding the cattle embargo in Great Britain was presented to parliament on the 6th. In May last a minute of council was passed by the Dominion government and forwarded to England, asking for the removal of the embargo. On June 21 Mr. Chamberlain transmitted the reply of the Imperial board of agriculture, stating that it was unable to propose to parliament a modification of repeal of the act of 1896, establishing the embargo. Mr. Chamberlain pointed out that Canada and the United States were the only countries which could ship live cattle to England and that under these circumstances Canadian cattle were in an exceptionally advantageous position as compared with other countries, the United States excepted.

The board of agriculture in its reply said that the embargo was of general application, and that it would be impossible to repeal or amend it. The letter goes on to say:

"The board is glad to know that since the passing of the act of 1896 the trade in live animals between Canada and the United Kingdom has been practically maintained at its former level, and in view of the importance of stability in the conditions under which trade of that character is carried on, the difficulty of reconciling the opinions of experts on occasions when the appearance of disease is reported, and the absence of any noteworthy effect upon the volume of imports and upon the price of meat, it is not probable that parliament will support, nor could the board propose, any modification or repeal of the act passed five years ago, after the fullest consideration."

Japan's View of the Treaty.
K. Zumoto, managing editor of the Japan Times was recently interviewed in Victoria concerning the new treaty between Great Britain and Japan. In reference to the treaty he said;

"True, it will create new enemies for Japan, but the Japanese do not mind that. It will make Russia a greater enemy, but what of it. It will make enemies of those continental powers who do not like England, but with Britain as an ally why should Japan mind making these countries enemies. The alliance will strengthen Britain in the Far East. Britain has many interests, and in the Far Eastern interest of the British empire Japan is equally interested. Both stand for the open door, for free trade, making all equal in the commerce of the greatest eastern world."

G. N. R. Entering Canada

A Helena despatch of March 7th says; The Great Northern railway is preparing to transfer its recently acquired property, the Great Falls and Canada line, into a broad gauge road.

The necessary surveys will be completed May 1, and the work of widening will then begin at the Great Falls end of the line. There are only 66 miles of the road to build across the Canada line to Lethbridge where the road will connect with the Canadian Pacific at Dunmore Junction. But the Great Northern has 130 miles of narrow gauge to rebuild to the international boundary line, and the work on this part will be done first. It is expected that broad gauge trains will be running from Great Falls to Dunmore Junction by Sept. 1st.

No News of Andree

Free Press; Interviewed yesterday by the Free Press Mr. Tyrrell, secretary to Commissioner Chipman of the Hudson's Bay company, said nothing new has been received by the company confirmatory of a report published some two years ago that Aeronaut Andree and companions had landed on the northern shores of Hudson's Bay and were killed by Eskimos.

Slanders on British Troops.

The most forcible reply possible to the slanders concerning the British army which have been propagated in many European nations, Germany included was that of the German residents of Durban at a meeting held on Feb. 16th, in the new German settlement when they signed an indignant protest against the charges made against the conduct of the British army in South Africa, denying them and declaring them, on the personal knowledge of the signatories, to be slanders.

Most of the speeches at the meeting were delivered in German and were of a stirring and vehement character. The speakers described the statements in question as "horrible lies" and "Godless devilish lies," and cited evidence to disprove them. Evidence was also brought forward in tribute to the good treatment which the German population had received there they having in this respect been on an equality with the English. Although loving their own fatherland, the speakers said, honor demanded that they should condemn this "awful conspiracy."

Manitoba Markets

From the Commercial.

Manitoba wheat has been dull and quiet but steady. Only a small business doing owing to the difficulty of transportation. Prices at the close of business yesterday are as follows, viz.; 1 northern, 7c in store Fort William, and 2 northern, 68c March delivery. For May delivery 73 1-2c; 1 northern 70 1-4c. In store Port Arthur same as in store Fort William. In store Duluth 1 northern, 71 1-2c, and 2 northern, 68 1-2c. March delivery and May delivery same price as Fort William. On track North Bay, 1 northern is worth 81 1-2c and 2 northern, 78 1-2c.

The country wheat market is very quiet owing to lack of elevator accommodation. Where wheat is being bought prices rule from 57 to 68c per bushel.

Wheat—The market is well supplied with oats and prices are easy at about the same figures as a week ago. There is a small eastward movement to Quebec points, but buyers there are not very keen just at present and the business lags a little. Prices remain at 35c to 36c per bushel for feed grades in ear lots on track here. Prices being paid to farmers at country points for No. 2 white oats range around 28c to 30c, Brandon rate of freight. Street oats are worth 30 to 33c per bushel.

Dawson News

A Dawson despatch of March 4th, via Ashcroft, says: Out of an assessment of $145,000 for this year, $138,000 has been paid in, leaving but $7,000 unpaid; $2,000 was paid during February. This is one indication of general prosperity. The valuation is $11,000,000 and the rate one and one-quarter cents.

The lowest temperature was 40 and the highest 9 below.

There have been a number of new strikes. Richard Butler got $600 a man on Bear Creek at bedrock.

Yukon Councillor Wilson and Barney Segue left for Ottawa on Saturday last as delegates in connection with the Treasand concession.

Several people are leaving for Koyokut where excellent pay has been struck. There will be a stampede in the spring. Large numbers are coming into Dawson by every boat. Pay quartz is being found in large quantities and it is believed there is a great future for permanent mining.

Sledding is fairly good in this settlement.

Alex. McCanley has been operating a new mill at Blackfoot lake during the winter, having made a large cut. The mill will be moved to Hastings Creek next week and the lumber for the new Presbyterian church sawn as soon as possible. Building operations will be begun as soon as the timber is on the ground.

Logan school has opened for 1902 term under the direction of W. M. Williams.

SEEKING A MARKET.

The Vancouver board of trade held a special session this week.

The meeting was held primarily to receive nominations for the 1902 election of officers, and to clear up the outstanding business before the annual general meeting, but one of the most important matters that has come up for consideration for some time was contained in the following letter, received from the secretary of the Edmonton board of trade:

Dear Sir.—At a council meeting of our board, held to-day, it was unanimously resolved that your board be communicated with in regard to the shipping of grain from Alberta to Western Canada. Under the arrangements now completed a would-be immigrant can join a "personally conducted" party which will be under the charge of an agent of the Dominion government from the time of leaving Liverpool or Glasgow until Winnipeg or some still more western point is reached, the total cost of the journey being less than £8. Arrived at his destination, the emigrant could remain in one of the various "homes" set up by the Dominion government until he had found employment, or had settled down, merely paying for his board, and if he took out wife and children the entire family would be so accommodated. No doubt is entertained that any one wishing for work on a farm would be able to get it almost at once, with the help of the local agent of the government, which help would be freely placed at his disposal. Should he be in a position to take to farming on his own account, the government would grant him an allotment of 160 acres free of charge, but subject to certain conditions as to residence and cultivation. Those of his sons who were over 18 would each be entitled to a similar piece of land, though in their case they would be allowed to live in the same home as their father, occupation of the holding not being requisite in that case. They could, at least, hold the land until they cared to sell it, and the value of the land is steadily increasing in value, last year's advance being about 5s. per acre. There is a great demand for farm laborers, and the wages paid in Western Canada to persons of this class are about the same as in this country, but the difference is that in the former case the agricultural laborer would get his 160 acre allotment in addition, and should, in course of time, be able to set up a farm of his own. It is said that many well-to-do Canadian settlers of to-day began life in this way. One point strongly insisted on is that there is no necessity whatever for any person going out to Western Canada to enter into an undertaking, either on this side or on the other, to pay for "instruction" in farm work, or to give a "premium" of any sort whatever. The Emigration to Western Canada.

London Times: An important scheme for the development of emigration to Western Canada has just been finally arranged as the result of a visit to this country of Mr. James A. Smart, deputy minister of the interior for the Dominion of Canada, and Mr. W. J. White, inspector of United States immigration agencies in Canada, acting in conjunction with Mr. W. T. R. Preston, Canadian emigration commissioner in London, and no fewer than from 2,500 to 3,000 persons will leave Liverpool or Glasgow during the month of March to settle in the Dominion, while others are expected to follow in April, May and June at the rate of about 4,000 per month. The scheme in question follows an active propaganda which was set on foot in the United States about four years ago with the view of inducing residents in that country to move across the frontier and settle in Canada. It was found by the Canadian officials who took charge of the movement in question that comparatively little was known among the vast majority of the dwellers even in the more northern of the states as to the splendid agricultural resources of Canada, especially in regard to the growing of wheat, and that there was a certain degree of reluctance to make what seemed to be a bold venture. But the circulation of a vast amount of descriptive literature, the organization of parties of American journalists who visited the Dominion and reported on what they saw, and the adoption of other methods for the spread of information served the purpose of enlightening residents in the States in question as to the advantages of settlement in the Dominion, while "personally conducted" parties of settlers were arranged so that the people would be put to a minimum of trouble in establishing themselves on British territory. So successful has the movement been that during the last four years no fewer than 50,000 persons have removed from the United States to Canada. There were 18,000 who did so last year, and the total this year is expected to exceed 25,000. It is understood that the settlers are fully convinced of the superiority of the agricultural capabilities of Western Canada over those of the particular districts they have left, and the acquisition of this additional population is naturally a source of satisfaction to the Dominion government. But the movement has also had a perceptible and noteworthy effect in strengthening the friendly feelings entertained on the part of Americans towards both Canada and Great Britain. The new comers have not only found a more fertile territory in the land of their adoption, but they have learned what, individually, they had not realized before—that there is just as much liberty and freedom under the British flag as there is under that of the United States. So it comes about that the favorable reports they send to their friends in the States are inducing more and still more to follow their example while those who have been the qualifying period of three years in Canada are, as a rule, glad to become naturalized, and they are found to make as good British subjects as those among whom they have gone to live.

The success of this movement as regards the United States recently led the Dominion government to seek to organize, if possible, a similar stream of emigration from this country to Western Canada. Under the arrangements now completed a would-be immigrant can join a "personally conducted" party which will be under the charge of an agent of the Dominion government from the time of leaving Liverpool or Glasgow until Winnipeg or some still more western point is reached, the total cost of the journey being less than £8. Arrived at his destination, the emigrant could remain in one of the various "homes" set up by the Dominion government until he had found employment, or had settled down, merely paying for his board, and if he took out wife and children the entire family would be so accommodated. No doubt is entertained that any one wishing for work on a farm would be able to get it almost at once, with the help of the local agent of the government, which help would be freely placed at his disposal. Should he be in a position to take to farming on his own account, the government would grant him an allotment of 160 acres free of charge, but subject to certain conditions as to residence and cultivation. Those of his sons who were over 18 would each be entitled to a similar piece of land, though in their case they would be allowed to live in the same home as their father, occupation of the holding not being requisite in that case.
